OLIN MILLS, INC. SUES CITY AND JUDGE LLOYD

The city and Municipal Judge N. D. Lloyd were named defendants in an injunction suit filed in circuit court in West Palm Beach last week by Olin Mills, Inc., a photography firm of Chattanooga, Tenn.

The company seeks to enjoin Belle Glade from enforcing an ordinance which would require the firm to pay a 25 dollar annual license tax per agent to solicit photographic business here.

The firm alleges that it is engaged in Inter-State Commerce, and that the city ordinance is a violation of the U. S. Constitution and the Florida Declaration of Rights.

In its action against Judge Lloyd the company seeks to restrain him from taking any action against Mrs. Evelyn Lewis, an agent of the firm, who was arrested here Nov. 2 for alleged violation of the license ordinance. The case is now pending in the local court, the complaint stated.

Constable Ray Whitlock served the papers on Mayor Herman Cline at the recessed commission session last Friday night.

Port Authority Officials

Promise Support On Local Port And Dock Facilities

The first casualty of the hunting season in this area was Councilman D. W. Cunningham. He was shot by a turkey on a hunting trip last Sunday and accidentally shot.

The men were turkey hunting in a wooded area near Clewiston at the time. Cunningham received the charge from a 16-gauge shotgun from a distance of about 50 yards. Most of the shot entered his upper right arm, but some lodged in his side.

Cunningham was taken to Clewiston Hospital for emergency treatment and then to Good Samaritan Hospital at West Palm Beach for surgery.

Friend said he and Cunningham became separated and Cunningham climbed a tree to get away from the turkey. He was wearing a polka dot shirt and foliage concealed most of his body.

Friend added he saw the polka dots and thought it was a turkey. He whistled to make sure and when he received no answer, he fired.

Ideal conditions surrounding the bean race last week disappeared this week when prices fell sharply due to increased supply and low quality.

According to packing house officials, some beans are being left in the field to the poor prevailing market, which they expect to last until the bean season peak is reached.

Approximately 50 to 60 cars of beans were shipped from the lake area this week bringing: Plantains, from nothing to $5; Tender Greens, $1.50 to $2.25; Plantains, nothing to $2.25 and Florida Beans from nothing to $2.25.

It was reported that a labor shortage of field workers is beginning to develop.

Pioneer Growers Cooperative shipping between ten and 15 cars of beans a day by a light volume of cargo bringing $2.25 and chiceroy selling for $1.50.

Auda and Sons are probably the only firm in the area shipping celery. The price on celery is about $1.50 a bushel and on size six, $3.50. The price dropped from that of last year, because of the volume of celery coming from California. An official predicted that the firm will harvest parcel celery next week.

Graber and Sons reported that the radish market fell this week from $1.25 to 75¢. He said that the quality is excellent and demand good.

Harold Rabin has been shipping beans and a little celery and chiceroy this week.

COMMISSION CONUNDRUM

"You can't please all of the people all of the time," and the young city commission already has discovered that it's extremely difficult to satisfy part of the people part of the time.

At a recent commission meeting a spokesman for the churches requested that the commission meet on a night other than Wednesday so that the churches could attend midweek services regularly also would be able to go to commission meetings.

After limited discussion, the commission agreed to change the meeting night to Thursday of each month. This change was advertised through a legal notice in the news last Friday.

At a subsequent recessed commission session, an authorized spokesman for the churches pointed out that the paper could no longer carry much information on the meetings due to the shift in nights. She stressed that one of the principal functions of a weekly paper is to acquaint the public with the affairs of the city.

Commission sessions seldom end prior to midnight. After this the reporter would have to write the story, the linotype operator would set it; the reporter would proof read the article; the printer would lock the forms and run the front sheet and the reporter would check the heads, all in the preparation for the early morning run Friday.

By the time this lengthy process would be completed, it would be early morning, and the reporter and "back room" staff would have labored from sun to sun.

If the staff did not complete this procedure practically every other week, the news reports would appear a week and a day following the meetings; consequently, these would no longer be news.

The commissioners scratched their heads. They realized the importance of reports on commission proceedings being carried into the homes of the citizens. They understood that a newspaper is the link with the people, only a small fraction of whom attend the meetings and even fewer with regularity. The paper spokesman further stated that the paper had been requested to carry a forecast of the meetings as well as reports so as to more thoroughly inform the public.

The commissioners compromised and passed a motion setting the meetings on the second and fourth Tuesday night in each month. The clerk was authorized to draw up another legal notice announcing the change in the change.

The next regular commission meeting is scheduled for the second Tuesday in December. At least two lobbies are satisfied to date.

As you can see from the report and to assist the nurses. (These important reports, the sewing and work projects will be given in full by the chairmen very shortly as is the case with all the standing committee work.)

The Auxiliary opened its March meeting to the public at which time the American Cancer Society showed one of its films. It served the annual Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the Country Club in the interest of fund raising and put on a spring rummage sale for ports in the regular Friday edition. If the reports are held over for the following week, they would no longer be news, the spokesman said.

Following the motion, the commissioners authorized the city attorney, Frank Anderson to re-advertise the change in meeting nights.

The emergency ordinance, requiring all establishments selling alcoholic beverages to close at midnight during the week and 1 p. m. Saturday until 8 a. m. Monday, was passed on first and second and final reading. The ordinance states that the operation of music or noise producing devices by establishments will be prohibited during closed hours, and that it is unlawful for establishments to sell alcoholic beverages to minors under 21 years of age and for minors to be on the premises where these are sold.

City Attorney Claude Jones said that, a boozing clause would have been incorporated in the ordinance if more time had been allotted for its drawing.

Leonard Alpher, operator of local liquor establishments, asked if the ordinance would apply to grocery stores which sell beer and wine. The attorney stated that it would.

P. P. DeMoya, manager of the Florida Power and Light Co. for the Glades area, told the commission that the company would share the expense of the electricity consumed by city Christmas lighting and would pay half of the cost of installing the decorations if the city or a civic organization would sponsor the program. He requested that the lights be put up on galvanized wire as a safety measure. Commissioners voted to refer the project to the chamber of commerce.

Mrs. C. W. McDonald, supervisor of parks and playgrounds, requested permission to install an outline of lights in the shape of a Christmas tree on the water tower in Paradise Park.

Commissioner W. F. Crider said that the same project was announced last year when it was termed unsafe. The installation also would void the insurance policies on both water tanks, he said. The motion failed to pass.

Commissioners authorized the expenditure of $4,500 for an unloading machine for the street department on the request of H. O. Callahan, department commander.

Carlton asked that the street department be delegated the responsibilities of cleaning the streets and gathering trash. Through a motion, the duties were transferred from the sanitary department to the street department. He also made a motion that he city employ in charge of the city dump be taken from the payroll in the interest of economy. The motion failed to pass.

The new zoning board of appeals appointed at the meeting included Walter Ashley, H. O. Carlton, W. L. Collins as commissioners and Milton Durrington as clerk.

The commission instructed the attorney to draw a resolution to the State Road Department requesting that the first bridge in the city to be replaced be given city for installation at Fifth or Ninth Streets over the Hillsboro Canal.

The commission voted to accept the petition of the north section of the city from residential to business was passed on first reading.

The commission moved to accept the bid of Jessie Motes on a new blasting, planting, caulking and trimming of trees and windows of the city hall and the "decant city owned house for $2000.00 and within 90 days providing the funds are available, according to the motion.

Harris suggested that the committee condense the points included in the six-page resolution and send these out to chamber membership for an opinion.

Directors moved to refer action to the National Affairs committee and authorized Chairman Young to appoint committee members.

Secretary Mrs. George Young announced that Ed Cherry, manager of the Southeastern District of the U. S. chamber

He stated that he made the offer because the local chamber's participation in the national program has been so outstanding since its affiliation with the U. S. organization, Mrs. Young reported.

The directors discussed the possibility of arranging an appearance for Cherry before a joint meeting of the Lions and Rotary clubs at noon and a meeting with the chamber group at night.

He stated that the Vero chamber averages between 13 and 14 thousand dollars a year from memberships which apparently is due to the establishment of a strong organization for the membership drive.

Discussing the features of the Vero program, those who attended the conference pointed out that the new directors of Harris suggested that the Vero chamber of commerce plan sending out periodic new bulletins incorporating news of members be adopted.

Directors made arrangements for the organization's Christmas activities on the agenda designating that Belle Glade be called the Christmas City again this year.

They authorized a 30 dollar expenditure for a Santa Claus

SHOOTIN' BLANKS

In the following minutes, he advocated that the man in charge of the city dump and the garbage truck driver under the Sanitary Department be eliminated. The first draws a salary of $43.50 a week and the latter, $190 a month. All the city dump man does is direct people in the placement of garbage, spray the dump every day to eliminate flies and mosquitoes, burn up the trash, and operate the city dog pound. The garbage-truck driver has but one duty which is picking up garbage for which service residents pay through special licenses.

Fortunately several of the other commissioners are laymen too, for they did not approve of these ideas for economy.

Much has been said about how impossible it is to be a policeman, but publicity on the difficult lot of the policeman has been neglected.

The following verse is dedicated to the local police force. If he is neat—he's conceited if he's careless—he's a bum if he's pleasant—he's a flirt if he's brief—he's a grouch if he's hurried—he overlooks things.

If he takes his time—he's lazy if he gets pinched—he's trying to make a record if he passes you up—he's easy if he's deliberate—he's too slow to catch cold.

If he outwits you—he's a sneak if you see him first—he's a dope if he makes a good catch—he's lucky.

If he misses it—he's a chump if he gets promoted—he had a pull if he doesn't—AW, what's the use.

Chrysler Corp. Announces
It's Dealers' Council

Joseph A. O'Malley, General Sales Manager of the Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation, announces the formation of a Dealer Council. Its purposes, as defined in the charter, are "to promote the best possible dealer-factory relations through an analysis of dealer problems, consultation and conference with dealer members and Chrysler, and top present recommendations to the factory for the mutual benefit of both dealer and factory."

Organization of the Council was effected by 45 Chrysler dealers who met in Detroit in response to an invitation from the factory. This group covers the whole United States geographically, comprises the heads of dealerships of all sizes and types of territory, from the largest metropolitan area to the rural communities, and takes in both men of long association with Chrysler and those whose connection is of postwar date. The personnel was selected with a view to making the Council a representative cross-section of the dealer body and to give the newly-formed council the maximum benefit of the experience gained by successful merchants in various types of automobile markets.

The original group attending the organization meeting will constitute the Council until such time as all Chrysler dealers have been given an opportunity to vote on representatives at their local levels. This will be achieved by holding elections in each of the 108 districts into which the Chrysler Division's sales territory is divided. These elections will name two men to represent each district in each of the 28 sales regions, and from among these each region will choose one man to serve on the national body, the Dealer Council.

In order that all dealers may have an opportunity properly to analyze the Council plan and select their local representatives with due consideration of their capabilities in carrying it out, the term of the present body has been fixed at one year. Next November it will be superseded by a Council chosen by vote of the entire dealer body, with such changes in personnel as the ballots indicate.

In addition to the 28 Council members to be chosen by the dealers in their respective regions next year and thereafter, five will be appointed by the factory, making a total of 33 first general election. John T. Condon, Sales Executive, has been named as the factory contact man in affairs of the Council.

The Council has appointed the following Executive Committee to serve until November, 1952, at which time the newly-elected group will have the privilege of naming its own: Burch E. Greene, Los Angeles, Calif., chairman; Charles G. McKimmie, Richmond, Va., vice-chairman; H. B. Farnham, Fort Worth, Texas, recording secretary; Lyle F. Harris, Worcester, Mass., L. M. Stewart, St. Louis, Mo., Arthur H. Jones, Kansas, Mo., and C. L. Holt, Minneapolis, Minn.

Other committee chairmen named are: Business Managers, S. S. Sayre, Seattle, Wash.; Public Relations, Ernest S. Dowd, Cleveland, O.; Production, Frank H. Schenck, Davenport, Ia.; Merchandising, Advertising and Publicity, Harvey A. Turnure, New York City; Service and Parts, Walter E. Allen, Oklahoma City, Okla.

TISSET SUGGESTS FUMIGATION FOR WEEVIL CONTROL

Fumigation is the only satisfactory method of controlling weevils in stored corn, Dr. A. N. Tisbet of the University of Florida Agricultural Experiment Station said recently.

Unless measures are taken to control these pests, thousands of bushels of stored corn in Florida will be destroyed by weevils during the next few months," the Experiment Station entomologist pointed out.

Many ears are infested to some extent with weevils when brought in from the field. As the most of the ears are in the shuck, which prevents dry insecticide materials from reaching the weevils, fumigation is the most effective way of controlling the pests. If weevils are not controlled, they will multiply and destroy large quantities of corn in a surprisingly short time.

Mixtures of carbon tetrachloride and carbon bisulphide or carbon tetrachloride and ethylene dichloride have proved very effective and, when used as directed, are safe and do not damage corn for use as food feed, or seed. Both of these fumigant mixtures are prepared commercially and may be obtained at farm supply houses. Dr. Tisbet explained.

Either of the new fumigant mixtures should be applied by sprayer or sprinkled evenly over the surface of the grain at the rate of six gallons to 1,000 bushels of corn. For good results the bin in which the corn is stored must be tight. A bucket pump or garden sprayer is satisfactory for applying the material. Care should be taken to inhale the fumes or to spill or splash the liquid on the clothes or body. If only one bin is to be fumigated and the job can be done in a few minutes, a gas mask is not needed, but if one is to be exposed to the fumes for several minutes, a mask should be worn. If some of the material is spilled on the clothes, the contaminated articles should be removed at once and any that splashes on the skin should be washed off with soap and water as soon as possible.

Dr. Tisbet also recommended having the surface of the corn at least six inches below the top of the walls of the bin, applying the fumigant on a calm day, and covering the corn with a tarpaulin after applying the material. Ticking heavy building paper to light roofing paper on the sides and bottom of the bin will help to prevent the fumes from escaping.

FLORIDA IS TOP FLOWER PRODUCER OF SOUTH

Florida has blossomed forth as the South's top-ranking producer of flowers—a bouquet that, bringing growers more than $10 million annually.

Taking advantage of ideal climate and growing conditions that caused the Spanish to christen it the "Land of Flowers," the state has forged ahead of such sectors as Texas in production of cut flowers, bulbs, ornamentals and nursery stock, says the Florida State Chamber of Commerce.

Specifically, $16,429,000 worth of flowers and plants were produced within the State last year. It was revealed in this week's business review by the State Chamber's research and industrial division.

This figure placed Florida in eighth place nationally, overall United States production being $45,781,000. New York led the individual states with $39,656,000.

Florida's leading commercial flowers are gladioli, Easter lilies, ferns, bulbs, camellias, azaleas, palms and other ornamentals, with approximately 12,000 acres planted to these varieties. Additionally, considerable greenhouse space is given over to orchids and rare house plants.

Florida's industry, however, is not confined alone to flowers and ornamentals. There is a growing production in nurseries of citrus and other fruit and nut trees, particularly the tropical varieties.

Although the value of Florida's commercial flower and plant crop has increased threefold in the past 10 years, the industry still is in its infancy. Growers say the climatic advantage presents a potential which almost is untapped today.

MOLASSES PRODUCERS EXEMPTED FROM OPS

Producers of edible molasses for use in baking and table syrup are now exempted from price control under a new regulation, according to John E. Neel, acting district director of the Office of Price Stabilization in Miami.

The OPS explained that edible sugar cane molasses, exempted at the producer's level in Amendment 6 to General Overriding Regulation 7, is produced mainly in the southern states. The product is derived from the processing of sugar cane into sugar for direct consumption and differs from industrial molasses in that it has a high sucrose content.

Industrial molasses, used primarily as a raw material for ethyl alcohol and yeast, and in feeding livestock, has all obtainable sucrose extracted. This product remains under CEILING PRICE REGULATION 89.

Fla. Industrial Comm. Reports On Work Permits

For the two months ending October 31, work permits were issued to 2,408 male minors and 1,118 females by the Child Labor Department of the Workmen's Compensation Division. Double compensation, due to illegal employment, amounted to only $228.41.

Broken down in categories there were 119 minors given permits in agriculture; 1 in mining; 52, compensation; 293, manufacturing; 2,183, whole sale and retail; 443, services; 139 transportation, communication and utilities; and 226 in other industries.

Chairman Raymond E. Barnes of the Florida Industrial Commission when asked what, in his opinion, caused the decline in double compensation payments, said: "I see but one answer to that question. Employers are complying with the Child Labor Law, and securing the proper permits before placing minors on the job."

In the month of August, employers paid $1,464.48 double compensation for injuries to

GMC Provides $30 Million In Trucks For Armed Services

The GMC Truck & Coach Division of General Motors has since June 1950 completed or contracted for approximately $30,000,000 worth of regular production trucks for the armed services and other government agencies involved in national defense. It was announced recently by Roger M. Kyes, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the division.

This has enabled hundreds of outside suppliers to share in the defense work, which involves nearly 9,000 truck units of all sizes and types, without the necessity of obtaining new tooling equipment. Kyes said the units are for the Army, Air Force, Navy, Coast Guard, Corps of Engineers and Atomic Energy Commission.

The trucks and highway tractors already delivered or being assembled include pickups, stake beds, dump trucks, tankers, gas tankers, ambulances, buses, wreckers, panel and suburbans. Among the highway tractors are a number of GMC 650 Diesels delivered to the Army Transportation Corps for test purposes.

This defense production has been done and is being carried on at GMC's regular commercial assembly lines and is in addition to the production on the GMC military 6 by 6 tactical vehicle which started last month.

INSPECTION OF HERD DAILY IS IMPORTANT

Frequent inspection is fundamental in efficient livestock management, and the farmer who keeps a sharp eye on his animals usually succeeds with them.

When a farmer looks over his cattle or hogs every day, he is familiar with their condition, is able to feed and manage them efficiently, and he can take prompt measures if he finds any trouble with them. Regularly, livestock inspected frequently are in better condition than those allowed to roam for days or weeks without inspection.

Inspection is particularly important in winter when much pasture grass has been killed back and thousands of pounds of valuable meat may be lost if cattle are not given supplementary feeds. When a cattlemen notices his animals losing weight because of inadequate grazing, he knows he must provide additional feed. Such a measure enables the animals to hold their weight, gives the cow strength to produce a healthy calf, and actually prevents losses of cattle that otherwise would starve.

Cattle and hogs are valuable property, and the farmer simply cannot afford to lose them as a result of tardy steps to correct feed shortages or other unfavorable conditions.

Some poisonous plants will kill animals within a few hours, so, lest there be many victims, it is important to inspect herds frequently and to take quick measures to save healthy animals when plant poisoning is discovered.

When disease breaks out, promptness is necessary to prevent serious losses, but the owner cannot act quickly if he does not know about the trouble. Thousands of head of livestock have been saved by prompt corrective measures. Prompt action by state and federal livestock authorities in the outbreak of anthrax in Broward

County several weeks ago not only saved many cattle but also prevented the disease from spreading to other counties.

Dr. Oliver F. Goen, animal husbandman with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, urges farmers to inspect their herds frequently and to join Dr. J. V. Knapp, state veterinarian, in emphasizing the importance of prompt reports of unusual disease developments in any herd to county agents or veterinarians.

FLA. PORTS HANDLE 20 MILLION TONS OF GOODS

Florida ports were kept busy last year, handling almost 20 million tons of goods.

Virtually every Florida port showed an increase over 1949, says the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, resulting in a State total gain of 20 per cent.

The 1950 state total tonnage is reported in this week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division as 19,628,334 tons made up of 11,619,841 tons moving out of the state in both foreign and domestic commerce; 5,689,812 tons brought into the state; and 2,318,681 tons handled in local port trade. Imports from foreign countries amounted to 1,687,576 tons and exports totaled 2,435,631 tons.

Tampa, Florida's busiest port, handled a total volume of 7,317,476 tons; Jacksonville ranked second with 4,159,974 tons and Miami third with 2,168,100 tons. Other ports handling more than one hundred thousand tons were Port Everglades (1,866,552 tons); Port Saint Joe (1,835,184 tons); Panama City (1,040,606 tons); Charlotte Harbor (930,040 tons); Palm Beach (811,358 tons); Pensacola (447,506 tons); and Saint Petersburg (23,729 tons). It was pointed out that these port totals exceed the state total as all state figures have been adjusted from reports of the Army Engineers to eliminate duplications caused by reshipment of goods.

Good Samaritan Hospital Announces Appointment Of Public Relations Director

Mr. John F. Wymer, Jr., Administrator of the Good Samaritan Hospital, announced recently the appointment of Mrs. Rosemonde S. Christmas as Director of Public Relations. This is a new department for the hospital which has as its aim the development of mutual understanding, good will and respect between the hospital and its public. The program is designed not only to win support for the hospital but to make sure the hospital meets the public's need for hospital service, health education and training of personnel.

Mr. Wymer further stated that although Samaritan Hospital has an excellent medical staff, employs highly efficient personnel and possesses fine facilities and modern equipment, thereby making it possible to provide a high quality of service, it cannot leave the formation of public opinion concerning that service to chance impressions and occasional reports. Through its Public Relations Department the Good Samaritan Hospital will at times inform the residents of this area of the many services which the hospital provides.

Mrs. Christmas comes to West Palm Beach from South Bend, Indiana, where she was associated as Executive Director of the local unit of the American Cancer Society. She is a graduate of DePauw University, Greencastle, Indiana and also studied at Connecticut College for Women, New London, Connecticut and St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, Indiana. Mrs. Christmas and her daughter, Rosemonde, will reside at 1809 North Flagger Drive.

ALTO ADAMS OPPOSES PROPOSED FLA. TURNPIKE

Alto Adams, Fort Pierce candidate for Governor, has come out publicly against the proposed multi-million dollar turnpike along the Florida East Coast. The former supreme court justice said flatly he could not approve any such "pig-in-the-poke" proposal.

The controversial turnpike idea, advanced by the State Road Department several weeks ago, calls for a giant toll highway providing a direct link between Jacksonville and Miami, but bypassing the smaller towns and cities in between. The financing would come from interest-bearing revenue bonds issued by the State Improvement Commission.

Adams' complete statement follows: "In recent weeks the State Road Department's so-called turnpike proposal seems to have become an issue in Florida. As a candidate for governor I have been asked to express my views on it. Though the project would affect the entire state, financially and otherwise, very little factual data has been made available to the public. No one seems to know how much it would cost. The estimated figures vary from $125,000,000 to $500,000,000. No one appears to know just where it would be located, nor how the cities and communities affected would be provided for. No one has presented satisfactory evidence of its economical feasibility. "I can not conscientiously approve any such pig-in-the-poke proposal."

The "Bobcats" of EVH were again victorious on the gridiron Friday night, defeating the Ft. Pierce "Eagles" 7-5. After playing a scoreless game the first half the "Bobcats" scored in the middle of the third quarter on a recovered fumble by Walter Murphy, a senior guard who has sung his swan song for the football season. The "Bobcats" were stronger on the defense than on the offense.

The Ft. Pierce "Eagles," having had previously a record of no defeats and only one tie, had a very strong bid for the conference championship. The "Bobcats," with four games won, two lost, and one tied, have enjoyed one of their best seasons. Congratulations are given to the athletic staff for its untiring efforts in making this possible.

Russell Key
You probably never thought of yourself as being one of Joe Stalin's little helpers. If anybody accused you of being one, you would probably kick his teeth out.

Like a lot of other folks, you are inclined to believe that any one doing anything to aid and comfort Stalin must necessarily be a Communist.

Unfortunately, such is not the case. Thousands and thousands of folks like you and me are unknowingly and unintentionally helping the cause of the Kremlin.

A lot of us have been thinking too much about "Heartbreak Ridge" in Korea and not enough about "Heartbreak Ridge" here at home.

You don't have to worry about the one in Korea. Our fighting men will take care of that. It is the one here at home we should be concerned about. Stalin isn't very much concerned about Korea. He doesn't care how many Chinamen are killed or whether the line is north or south of the 38th parallel. Korea is just one little pawn in his international chess game.

He is concerned with the United States and what is happening here. One corrupt politician, crooked contractor, dishonest public official or radical labor leader means more to Joe than a thousand dead Chinamen.

But more helpful to him than any of these is the indifferent, selfish, apathetic average citizen. The millions of men and women who are not concerned who are willing to sit back and see their country ravaged by those who have failed to vote or who have cast their ballots in the interest of selfish aims.

Disregarding the welfare of the nation as a whole, the ambitious, self-seeking politicians have learned that the easiest way to gain and retain power is to cater to a few minority groups that, through organization, have been able to swing elections and force their will on an apathetic majority who must eventually pay for its inactivity in tax tribute sufficient to meet the selfish demands of these power minorities.

The health of a nation is not advanced when the sovereign votes of the people are bought either from the individual on the street corner or the pressure group by legislative action.

America's "Heartbreak Ridge" today is Capitol Hill where intended government of the people, by the people and for the people, designed by our forefathers is besieged by minority groups and blocks, each demanding its "pound of flesh" without regard to the welfare of the national body.

The farmer must have his seedlings—what matter if crops rot in the fields, surplus is dumped into the sea and God's abundance be cast aside. Labor must retain its gains and obtain higher and higher wages or coal will not be mined, trains will not run or ships be unloaded. Veterans and senior citizens must have their pensions and security and a board of bureaucrats must strengthen their hold on the national economy, bleed the public treasury white in the "advancement of socialism" and plans that history reveals have wrecked every nation so foolish as to adopt them.

Strong, forthright, courageous leadership is the nation's greatest need today. Such leadership can only come from an alert, aroused and militant people who are willing to sacrifice selfish interests, insist on a sound economy and unite to defend and maintain our Constitution and American way of life.

The hour is later than you think, the danger greater than you realize. Your thoughts, voice and your vote are weapons at your command that can be effectively employed in the service of the nation. Use them to strengthen and safeguard America.

New Law Protects Veterans Against "Side Payments"

Because of a new law allowing treble damage against those who knowingly overcharge or connive in overcharging a veteran for a home bought with a GI loan, V. S. PARKER, MANAGER OF THE MIAMI REGIONAL OFFICE OF THE VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION, recently warned veterans, builders, lenders and real estate dealers against the consequences of demanding "side payments" in connection with veterans' loans.

Under the loan provisions of the GI Bill, any payment for a home over and above V.A.'s appraisal of "reasonable value" is prohibited, and criminal statutes provide fines up to $1,000 and prison terms up to one year for willful violation of the law. The law also risks permanent loss of their rights under all veterans' laws.

Now, for the first time, Public Law 145, approved September 13, 1951, allows the court to order reimbursement of the veteran by assessing the seller five times the amount of the overcharge, plus costs and attorney's fees.

A veteran who discovers he has been overcharged may bring suit in any Federal District Court against the person or persons responsible for the damages, if awarded, are payable to the veteran.

When an overpayment is discovered and the veteran fails to institute and prosecute action against the violator within 30 days after discovering the overcharge, the Attorney General is authorized to bring suit in the name of the United States. The Attorney General also may institute action at the request of the veteran. In such cases, one-third of the amount recovered is paid to the veteran and the balance goes into the Treasury. Parker said that any lender who submits a loan to V.A. for guaranty while possessing knowledge of a side payment in connection with the sale—even though the payment was made to a third party—after the lender may be suspended from further participation in the GI loan program. Also, the V.A. guaranty issued in connection with the transaction may be invalidated.

In cases where there is any reason for doubt, Parker suggested that lenders obtain a signed statement from the veteran-purchaser that he is making no payment to anyone in excess of the disclosed purchase price.

Parker said veterans should remember that the provision of the GI Bill, stipulating that the selling price to the veteran may not exceed the appraised reasonable value, was placed in the law for their own protection against overpriced properties.

FLORIDA HOLDS SALT WATER FISH RECORD

Florida holds more world records for salt-water game fish than any other state in the Union, according to information recently released by the International Game Fish Association of New York.

In a breakdown of official record charts, it was revealed that 61 international fishing records had been set in Florida waters up to September, 1951. It took the combined efforts of fishermen in all of the remaining coastal states to barely top Florida's mark with a total of 62 records, giving the United States 123 of the 263 world's fishing champions.

California ran a slow second to Florida with a total of 24 international records. Other states contributing to the American honors include New York, Nine; Virginia, seven; Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Jersey four; Texas and Maryland, three; North Carolina, two; and Delaware and South Carolina, one each.

The remaining 140 world records were set in foreign waters. Florida also has the distinction of being the only state in the Union that rates an entirely separate division in national largemouth black bass fishing contests. Florida bass are so large and numerous that it is customary to have 3 divisions in national contests—Northern, Southern, and Florida.

FARM BUREAU ASKS CONSOLIDATION USDA FIELD SERVICE AGENCIES

The Florida Farm Bureau urges the consolidation of all USDA field service agencies both at the county and state levels. Delegates, voting for 10,856 farmers in 51 counties, declared themselves in favor of this recommendation at the recent state convention in Orlando.

The delegates also passed, among other resolutions, one which calls for legislation to control dumping of garbage and disposing of sewage in rural areas.

Danger! NO TIRE IS BLOWOUT-PROOF

and when a blowout occurs — it's the sudden drop of the wheel that may cause disaster!

GOODYEAR makes blowouts harmless with LIFE GUARD SAFETY TUBES

Here's how LIFE GUARDS can save your life:

Ordinary tubes have only one air chamber. When a tire blows the tube blows too. Without a second warning by the car wheel drops to the road. Too, too frequently the result is a crash — costly car damage and loss of personal property or loss of life!

Life Guard tubes have two air chambers. In case of a blowout, the outer chamber gives way — there's no sudden drop of the wheel — the car rolls on to low speed. Reserve air in the strong cord fabric inner chamber supports your car until you can pull up to a safe, gradual stop.
